

A Celebration of the Sky

Sunday, June 22, 2008, Conference
F.I.T. West 27th Street, at 8th Avenue, 'A' Building
Unlimited Seating

9 A.M. Registration

9:45 - Introduction

10:00 to 11:15

Bernadette Brady

Chaotic Astrology: A New Approach to Charts, Clients & Predictive Work

Gain insight into the relationship of fate and free will, family patterns, repeating cycles and how to co-create the future with the unfolding of your predictive work, not with new techniques, but with a new attitude toward astrology.

11:30 to 12:45

Darrellyn Gunzberg

The Chain of Habit: Ways of Letting Go in the Birth Chart

How we can use the horoscope to understand the landscape into which we are suddenly thrust when we are forced to let go.

12:45 to 2:15 - Lunch

2:15 to 3:30

Bernadette Brady

Prediction: A Therapeutic Tool

Combining secondary progressions and transits creates a Time Map, but if what we predict comes to pass, then we really have missed the point of predictive work!

3:45 to 5:15

Darrellyn Gunzberg

The Acorn's Passage: The Secondary Progressed Lunation Cycle

Written into the natal chart is a great oak tree, sometimes called destiny, or in Aristotle's term, "telos." This cycle is embedded in the acorn that will help us see just how tall that oak tree will grow.

5:30

Cash Bar at Mustang Harry's, 352 7th Avenue

Saturday, June 21, 2008

Pre-Conference Workshop: Doing Visual Astrology

The sights in the non-ecliptic starry sky are rich and beautiful and these constellations can point the way through a more focused delineation of your natal chart.

East/West Bookstore
Fifth Avenue at 14th Street
Limited Seating!
Pre-registration is necessary!

It is one of life's bitterest truths that bedtime so often arrives
just when things are really getting interesting.
